Next.

Last week we wondered what would be the next piece of presumption on the part of the political prohibitionists. We have not had long to wait for an answer. There seems to be no limit to the damage these people are willing to work provided that for purposes best known to themselves they can ride their hobby. That many of them are entirely sincere cannot be doubted but judging by conduct, it passes belief to suppose that the secret springs of the Prohibition party are not controlled by axe grinders and wirepullers of the most selfish varieties. Men who can get fifty dollars a night for making speeches, fat salaries for running newspapers, subsidies from the Democratic party, or a fictitious local prominence to which they have no right, may be relied upon to keep up the Prohibition agitation indefinitely, though it should work destruction right and left, in church, State and society. The latest evidence we have seen supporting this proposition is the following letter and circular addressed generally to the clergymen of New Jersey:

REVEREND AND DEAR SIR:

The great interest awakened in many sections of the country in the pending election in your State, and the prominence given to temperance in this election leads us to address you the enclosed questions. Be so kind as to give their your attention and answer one or all and return to us. In reference to the suggested conference it is probable that half fare at least, to and from the conference, can be obtained on all the railroads.

Yours most respectfully, EDITORS, THE VOICE,

Questions: 1 If Gen. Clinton B. Fisk, as the representative of Prohibition, were elected Governor of New Jersey, do you not believe this would be in the interest of political and social purity, and that it would give the agitation of the liquor question a great in petus throughout the whole country? 2 As far as you have observed, is there a tendency among the clergymen in New Jersey to support Gen. Fisk? 3 Would you be willing to attend a conference of the clergy at Newark to talk over the expediency of supporting Gen. Fisk! This conference to be presided over by Rev. Geo. F: Pentecost, or Charles F. Deems, and to be held, say Thursday afternoon, October

4 If you have no objection, please state with what political party you have been identified.

(Sign) Rev.

(1) The impudence of the Prohibitionists in arrogating to themselves the righteousness of the community is simply refreshing A careful inspection of the three parties as they exist to-day in Bloomfield does not reveal to the naked eye any preponderence of social purity in favor of the third party and we have reason to believe that the standard of purity is no higher in other sections.

As regards "agitation of the liquor question" it seems to need no further "impetus." It has been "agitated" into an almost hopeless muddle. There is, however, a startling need of some power which shall settle and clarify this much vexed question If, therefore, the election of Gen. Fisk means further "agitation," which is equivalent to further muddling, may we be delivered from such a catastrophe! A fool' may agitate a question but wisdom is demanded to settle it. And wisdom is what the Prohibition party pre emmently lacks.

(2) There are men among the clergy as elsewhere who have zeal without knowledge and some such may be expected to support Gen. Fisk.

(3) Clergymen, as men, have an undoubted right to take as active a part in politics as they deem expedient. But as clergymen to attempt to stamp with the official condemnation of the church our two great political parties, and to officially endorse another, whose cardinal doctrine is that every member of the opposing parties is guilty of gross immorality, is to insult the intelligence of laymen, to belittle the clergy and sow discord in the church. The church as such has never yet entered into the strife of political parties that it did not emerge therefrom demoralized and discredited. Nevertheless The Voice is not deterred from urging on the church to folly. If we grant it sincerity it must be at the expense of sanity. Once more we enquire What next?

---The Knights of Labor.

We find the following among the declaration of purposes of the Knights of Labor given in the Preamble adopted by that organization:

1. To make industrial and moral worth not wealth, the true standard of individual and national greatness.

[A truly noble purpose, worthy the striving of any organization or peo-

2. To secure for the workers the full enoyment of wealth they create; sufficient leisure in which to develop their intellectual, moral, and social faculties; all of the benefits, recreation and pleasure of association, in a word, to enable them to share in the gains and honors of advancing civ-

Again, we say Amen. Among the methods enumerated to secure these ends are the following:

The establishment of Bureaus of Labor The reserving of the public lands for ac-

The abrogation of all laws that do not bear equally on Capital and Labor.

The adoption of measures providing for the health and safety of those er gaged in mining, manufacturing and builing industries, and for indemnification to thos engage! therein for injuries received through lack of necessary safeguards. Such measures are much needed in mining regions where boys under twelve are compelled to work ten hours a day in laborious occupations, with out opportunity for education or enjoyment, and in manufacturing towns where women and children are driven to excessive life-destroying toil.

The enactment of laws to compel cor porations t pay their employees weekly, n lawful money, etc Much needed to destroy the truck system, requiring men to trade at company stores. To prohi it the employment of children inder 15 years of age in work shops, mines To prohibit the turning out of convict Much to be desired in the South where the Knights of Labor are grow ing rapidly among the negroes.] The establishment as far as possible of the co-operative system of labor. To persuade employers to arbitrate dif-

The efforts of workingmen to secure these ends are much to be recommended. Other purposes, such as the gov ernment purchase of railroads, tele graphs, and telephones will no doubt be found impracticable, and be suc ceeded by more rational demands.

Meanwhile, the Order, though temporarily checked by the disastrous strikes of last Spring, still retains life and power. If it can survive internal dissensions, it will soon become an enormous engine of power in the social, industrial and political worlds,
